Aspect	Description	Notes	Score
Content
Technical quality	Whether the paper shows an understanding of the (technical) issues involved. Correctness of all (technical) statements and claims.
Analysis	Whether a proper argumentation is given, and whether all main aspects of the topic are addressed, with proper regard of what are the main points and what are only secondary points.
Quality of the references	Whether you found and cite all relevant literature. Originality (finding relevant references yourself) is appreciated.
Own opinion	Whether the paper clearly expresses and argues your own opinion on the subject matter.
Form
Style	Clarity of writing, objectiveness, linguistic quality (in terms of spelling and grammar).
Structure	Logical structure of the paper, helping the reader understand what he is about to read, giving the paper a natural flow.
Attractiveness	Formatting of the paper, including precise formatting of the bibliography.
